Residential Placement

Please feel free to call the Focus on the Family Counseling Department at 1-855/771-HELP (4357) to discuss residential options for your child, or for Christian therapist referrals. Focus on the Family does not recommend specific residential treatment programs, as a new director can change much about a program; but we can give you some names to contact that may help you in your search. It's often wise to begin with counseling for your child or family before pursuing a residential option.

Teen Camps

For situations that don't require a residential treatment program, another option is a short-term Christian camp setting. Though Focus on the Family does not endorse particular camps, you might look into options represented through the Christian Camp and Conference Association, who offers listings for both general and therapeutic camps. Their address is P.O. Box 62189, Colorado Springs, CO 80962. Or call 1-888/922-2287 or visit cca.org.
