direct communication is a vital link to the people we desire to serve. Counseling

Many of those who come to us require specialized care. Focus on the Family is increasingly called upon to assist those experiencing painful and often destructive situations. Potential suicides, cases of spouse abuse, and child molestation are not uncommon. These pleas receive a reply by phone on a one-to-one basis. Most contacts are prompted by our radio broadcasts, which touch off an avalanche of "pain mail" and cries for help. In addition to the radio broadcast, callers become aware of the counseling/consultation we offer through Focus on the Family websites, magazine articles, simulcasts and other ministry outreaches. Our staff of 16 state-licensed counselors, 4 support staff, and 3 chaplains, respond to the critical letters and calls too complex for a mail or email response. Beyond this free consultation, when appropriate, callers are referred to counselors in their geographical area who have been approved through a screening process for our National Referral Network. Focus on the Family does not provide a categorical "endorsement" of therapists on the referral network. No charge is made for consultation with the Focus on the Family counselor.

Social Media

Focus on the Family social media efforts span across multiple channels including Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, Pinterest, blogs, etc. Our combined social footprint includes over 5.5 million fans and followers. The goal of this aspect of ministry is to bring our message/help/services to the places/sites where families are today, instead of waiting for them to come to our websites. We do this by offering small excerpts of our content, contests, give aways, tips, links and free downloads. We also have a pro-active listening aspect of our social media efforts, where we listen in the social media space (not just our pages) for opportunities to provide help, resources & counseling to families in need of our support.

Among these are Thriving Pastor Connection, a weekly e-mail, coaching events for pastors, and our toll-free Pastoral Care Line, administered by our Counseling Department, which provides a listeneng ear, referrals and advice to pastoral family members in crisis.
